plished there was much genuine rejoicing.

On March 2 last the act of Congress providing for the coinage of money for the Philippine Islands became operative and at once orders were sent to the San Francisco mint and the Philadelphia mint to prepare for big work. Superintendent John H. Landis of the local mint had been for four years chief coiner before President Roosevelt named him as the head of the institution, and with the practical grasp he has of mint work he determined that Philadelphians should show just what could be done when the word "hurry" was attached to an official request.

all show just what could be done when the word "hurry" was attached to an official request.

Orders were issued to the heads of departments, every available man and woman was nut to work, each working a moment was made to tell, and in the time mapped out the order was filled, and 2,500,000 peesos are this morning a ready for shipment.

The colnafe in this case is exactly equal to the minting of the same number of American dollar, and the production of as perfect a specimen of coin as can be made. In order that the increasing demand for minor coins should be met the mint added to the big Philippine coinage 100,000 pieces of bronze, valued at $91,000, and $3,500,000 nickels, worth $180,000. If the same ratio were kept up during the whole year the big money-making building on Spring Garden etreet could supply a major portion of all the coin used in commerce.

A street car conductor has no redress against a passenger who refuses to pay his fare except by a civil action for 5 cents damages, unless the passenger in some way disturbs the peace, by words or acts. Mere refusal to pay is not a disturance of the peace in itself nor does it entite the conductor to have the passenger arrested on such charge.

Such is the substance of a decision rendered by Judge Tracy of the First District Police Court on Monday, in which James Dorler, arrested on Saturday, was discharged.

Dorler boarded a car on Ninth and Pine streets. He tendered an Olive street transfer as his fare. On conductor Brown insisting that he pay the 5-cent fare, he refused. The conductor ejected the man from the car and then had him arrested for disturing the peace.

Judge Tracy pointed out that in such cases as this there is no disturance of the peace, and the conductor's rights end when the passenger is put off the car without unnecessary force. know what I should do," said the nurse "What with the good ones wh are dragged into mischief and the bad ones who lead them I'm kept on the alert all the time trying to keep the ward in order."

"Little Tartars." "Little Tartars."

Two "little Tartars" who make life interesting for the nurse are Johnnie and Jimmy Bly. They are brothers, and they start every day with a fight. They sleep in the same bed, and the one waking first punches the other till he is aroused. Then they lie in bed and make faces at each other. One particular face always gets Jimmy, the younger of the two, excited, and he starts to punch his brother's head. Then the fight rages as they race about the yard until the nurses or details stop them. Jimpy is always wandering out of the ward, and wherever he goes there is soon something doing in the line of trouble. He climbs up on chairs to investigate the medicines, and usually finishes by falling off and breaking a medicine glass or two.

An aristocrat among the children is little Joseph Porter, who refuses to play or have anything to do with the other children. He has several playthings which his mother brought him, and when the other children come aroun his cot he puts away his treasures and looks at the intruder with a quiet, questioning look that generally puts the visitor out of countenance.

All the children in the hospital are not so happy as the dozen in the contagious ward, and one of the saddest is little Michael Ellis, who was brought in from the Pour th District police station.

He is only 8 years old and since his mother was taken to the asylum Mike and his brother Steve have been trying to live on $2 a week, which Steve earned by working in a chair factory, stripping cane for the chair bottoms. They had no place to sleep except in tenement house hallways. Mike cut his hand on some broken glass a few days ago, and has a well sefined case of blood poisoning, for which he is being treated. When he gets well both he and his brother will be taken to an orphanage.

Most of the children come to the institution accompanied by their mothers, and Two "little Tartars" who make life in Mount Cabanne Christian Church building, King's highway and Morgan street, is to be sold to the United Hebrew congregation for $27,200. Announcement was made to Sunday of the board's intention to accept the offer, and May 3 is the date set for a referendum to the congregation. The money of received from the sale of the church, with $23,000 which has been subscribed, will be tused to build Mount Cabanne and Central Christian Church at Von Versen avenue and Union boulevard.

The articles of agreement provide that the Mount Cabanne Church, for 18 months, shall remain at the disposal of its present owners, except on Fridays and Saturdays.

Those whose parents are outside the institution are not forgotten, as the daily gifts of fruit and playthings show. "LAW OF 1878" CONSTRUED. Obligation to Pay on Lapsed Policies Only Extends to Old Line Companies. For the first time the law of 1878 re-garding the obligation of life insurance garding the obligation of life insurance companies to apply money paid on lapsed policies to the payment of premiums was thoroughly interpreted by the United States Court of Appeals Monday in the case of the appeal of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Co. against Caroline Roth, who in the lower federal court had obtained judgment for $10,000.

Adam Roth, insured for $10,000, died after his payment of premiums had lapsed. Under the statute of 1873 attorneys for the widow contended the company must apply the net value of the policy to the payment of premiums and that insurance should continue until the net value of the policy was consumed.

ontinue until the net value of the policy was consumed.

In reversing the lower court, the Court of Appeals through Justice Thayer declares that the law of 1878 is applicable only to old line life companies and not to term policies. In term policies, the decision explains, only the running expenses of the company are obtained by premiums, while in the endowment policies the running expenses plus a reserve are paid by policy holders. The case was reversed and remanded.

If your hair is brittle and thinning, you have dandruff. The mere scouring of the scale of the loose scales, won't cure dandruff; because dandruff is nothing but scales of scalp being thrown up by a pestiferous little germ in burrowing its way to the root of the hair, where it asps the vitality causing falling hair and, in time, baldness. Now you can't stop dandruff, nor falling hair, nor prevent baldness unless you destroy that germ; and the only preparation that can do it is the new scientific discovery, Newbro's Herpicide. In fact no other hair preparation claims to kill the dandruff germ—all of them will clean the scalp; soap and water will do that, but only Newbro's Herpicide gets at the root of the trouble and kills the dandruff germ. Men's Fine Suits

We are demonstrating daily to scores of men and young men who are most particular dressers that our hand-tailored clothing will give the satisfaction demanded, but not always obtained of the tailor who builds to order. Our finer suits are cut and made singly, by hand, by one man. The collars are shaped and filled by hand, the button holes are hand-made. The fabrics are thoroughly shrunk, the linings and trimmings selected to match each pattern, and close attention is given to having each garment absolutely correct in style. This is the class of work we ask you to consider in our high-grade clothing.

Tomorrow we place on sale another invoice of Men's Suits of this quality that we closed out a little late at a big advantage to us. We give you the

MAKE THE JOB THOROUGH.

The Cole County grandjury has obtained substantial results in the legislative boodle investigation. Seven indictments under the bribery law mark excellent progress towards the complete exposure of corruption and the punishment of the guilty.

But the work is not finished. It will not be finished until every man against whom there is evidence of corrupt dealing is brought to trial. What has been done should be a spur to the completion Attorney-General Crow, Circuit Attorney Folk and the grandfuries of Cole County and St. Louis have a rare opportunity to thoroughly expess and break up the boodle conspiracy in the state legislature which has for years disgraced the state and corrupted legislation. THE CRADLE BANKS.

As stated in Saturday's Post-Dispatch, the St. Louis Fresi Air Mission has placed in a number of downtown buildings little banks, in the form of cradles, to receive the contributions to the fund for outings for poor children during the summer. Every penny placed in these cradle banks will help in the go work of giving some sick or destitute child a free trip on the river, or other outing that will be healthful and pleasurable. It is a well-known fact that an outing of this kind may be the means of saving life, by infusing new vigor into the ailing one at the turning point in the sickness.

A substantial fund will be needed, in order to carry on th work, and these cradle banks make a mute appeal to every one to do semething for the children. The response should be so generous that the work of the Fresh Air Mission will be more thorough and widespread this year than it has ever been.

KNOTS AND CORDS

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A boat whose rate of sailing is it miles an hour in still water, accelerated three and one-half miles per hour in going down stream and retarded three and one-falf miles per hour in coming up stream. It took it five hours longer to dome up stream a certain distance than in going down. What is the distance?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispetch.

The failure of the state legislature of The failure of the Post-Dispatch.

The failure of the state legislature of Missouri to pass the bill for the preservation of game is among the other blunders charged to that body in the last session. Whether or not the suppression of this bill, which met the approval of all who have considered it, was due to direct corruption on the part of certain game dealers or not, the state has received a direct setback in the failure of its legislature to see the wide importance of this measure. Even if it he shown that certain game and produce dealers, and certain cold storage companies are at the bottom of this failure, could there be conceived a policy more selfish and more suicidal? At the present rapid rate of game extermination the business of selling game in Missouri will be short-lived at best and only the most brutal ignorance could lie at the bottom of such legislation on the part of those who approve it.

Doubtless both ignorance and corruption, going hand in hand in this fair state have brought this thing to pass, but it is time that the press of the state should take this matter up and most semestly instruct the people as to the meaning of the sad statistics of the last it years of ruthlers alsughter. The cause is of vital importance for our very crops and above all, our fruit preservation depend upon the proper passage of a good game law and its absolute observation.

Autos and Motors in the Parks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I notice in the Post-Dispatch of the lithe nst. that Ky Bosh seems to have misunderstood my article. I do not recommend turning the parks or boulevards into speedways, as Mr. Ky Besh seems to have understood I believe every man exceeding a safe speed limit in the parks or boulevards should be arrested and prosecuted. The place for racing machines is a racetrack, and the place for the people is the park.

I believe, however, if is not good judgment or legal to keep automobiles and motorcycles from the public roads, parks or mo parks. My ohlef contention was that there was no stench from a first class automobile or metorcycle, and there way of hot only motor vehicles, but carriages as well, in order to demonstrate their constitutional right of having the right of way, and compelling motor vehicle operators to jam on all brakes and their constitutional right of having the right of way, and compelling motor vehicle operators to jam on all brakes and their hannelse.

When I referred to an "pld, bald-headed gasabo," I referred to him from practical experience, as a man who does this is generally such a person who has made a failure of life or a suffarer from indigestion, and therefore sees life from its worst standpoint. PROSPECTUS BY PUNCH ON ENGLISH PEERS SUGGESTED BY MISSOURI LEGISLATION

Somebody told the editor of Punch about the bill introduced in the Missouri legislature providing for the taxation, branding and licensing of foreign lords and noblemen, both real and genuine, bogus and fraudulent, found running at large in the state of Missouri, and providing severe penalties for the violation of the said law, to the end that the young women of Missouri may be protected and fully warned against engaging in speculation of so risky and dangerous a character.

The following glowing prospectus—to fill a long felt want—was the result:

THE MISSOURI PEER-IMPORTING CO.

This company was formed to meet the ever increasing demand for lords and noblemen in the state of Missouri and U. S. A. generally.

Absolutely No Risk Run by Our Customers!

Ladies dealing with us are assured of fair treatment and prompt delivery. Without fear of contradiction we affirm that our PEERS are superior in rank and pedigree and in position in their own countries to any nobleman now on the market.

Every LORD supplied to our customers is branded with the state stamp, and no goods that are not up to the government standard are retailed at our stores.

Our stock of British DUKES is the finest in the world, and at the Missouri exhibition we were awarded the gold medal for this rare and beautiful type of goods.

A choice selection of BELTED EARLS is always on view in our show-

We highly recommend our "B. B. B.," or BRITISH BARON BRAND. These may be had in three styles—English, Irish or Scotch. We do a large business in these goods with people who like a good article but cannot afford the more costly brands. As, however, the supply is limited, customers are advised to purchase early.

We have a cheap line in FRENCH COUNTS, which we are offering at prices to suit the smallest purse. Such of these goods as we sell bear the government imprint, though personally we do not care to recommend them, having had frequent complaints regarding their quality. We beg leave to observe that the lowest priced PEERS—such, for instance, as POLISH COUNTS—we do not stock, as in few cases have they been found satisfactory. We venture to urge upon our clients the advisability of paying a higher price and insuring quality.

"It is to celebrate the one-hundredth anniversary of the signing of this treaty that the people of the United States have proposed the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and invited the nations of the earth to participate. The present progress of preparations assures the triumphant success of this World's Fair. Upon the 30th of April, 1903, the grounds and buildings of the Exposition at the city of St. Louis will be dedicated by the President of the United States, in the presence of representatives of 38 nations and of the chief officers of the several states of the Union. It, therefore, becomes not only the duty but the high privilege of the people of Missouri to show their regard in fitting manner for this anniversary and its celebration.

"Now, therefore, I, Alexander M. The Trocaders Burlesquers are the attraction at the Standard-this week and proved most acceptable to the two audiences which heard them yesterday. They present two good burlesques and any number of specialities which are strictly up to date sumorous lines and indicrous situations situations can of them overdrawn, perhaps, but nevertheless, entertaining, and a good metal dium of relaxation.

The Imperial Theater held large-size audiences yesterday and all seeniel highly pleased with the performance, a new comedy-drama entitled "The Peddier's Claim," an interesting play with a warmhearted, cunning, shrewd Jew as the principal factor, the better class of Jews as seen in everyday life. In fact, a clearer characterization of a Hebrow has not been seen on the local stage since Lavid Warfield "Auctioneer," than the Moses Lovi of Sam Morris.

Mr. Morris takes advantage of the peculiar mannerisms and expressions in the Jew to create laughter, but it is the simon pure fun and not burlesque at the same time. Mr. Morris presents the serious side of Moses in a careful, dignified way, and evokes the sympathy of his audience. The play has many sensational episodes interspersed with comedy scenes. The scenery is adequate and the supporting company fully up t the requirements of the play.

Though Roys and Roberts and their pictorial act, now in its second week at Hashagen's Auditorium, are enthusiastically received, yet George E. Welslogel is the star performer this week. He allows several men to bend iron bars by a violent blow on his arm and to twist iron rods about his neck as though it were a telegraph pole.

There will be a performance of Edgar Egerton Wilkes" melodrama, "Michael Erle", Monday evening, at the Germania Theater, by a company is made up of young men and women associated together for the entertainment of the people of their race. The company of the proposed of their race. The company which is to production is to be elaborated with new scenery and cost times and if the play meets with popular approval here the company will enter the professional field as a travelling combination next season. One of the special features of the play, which represents a market place in London.

Following are those who play the leading characters: Abner Byrd. W. M. A.

Miss Vella Crawford.

The Arco Stock Company, an amateur organization, will give a dramatic entertainment at Lemp's Hall, Wednesday evening. The production will be the three-act comedy, "David Garrick," by T. W. Robertson. This play has never before been attempted by any St. Louis club, and has only been presented here by such actors as E. S. Willard and N. C. Goodwin. It will therefore attract considerable attention, and as the company contains some clever amateurs, the outcome should be successful. Following is a list of the players who will appear: Messrs. Charles Lyons, William A. Estep, J. M. Wagner, E. W. Bube, W. R. Sigler and Clem Muren; Misses Adel Estep, Eva Tracy, Bessie Slaughter, Julia Muren, Emie Giles and Belma Cooley.

Work

Was Erratic.

Yerkes pitched fine ball in the fall of 1901 and the spring of 1902. He was always ready to work and sometimes his pitching would be clouted by every club for a week or two and then he would startle himself by pitching an unusually clever game, such as he did against Pittsburg a couple of times last summer.

The Cardinals

by pitching an unusually clever game, such as he did against Pittsburg a couple of times last summer.

The Cardinals never seem to hit or field behind Yerkes, and when his support is bad he isn't effective. He has the height for speed pitching, a good arm and a curve and slow ball that the Browns declare were harder to hit than any other pitching they encountered in the spring series.

When Dohovan was running along with only about two pitchers able to work Yerkes was doing box duty twice or three times a week. If it hadn't been for that times a week. If it hadn't been for that times a week. If it hadn't been for that pair Donovan would have had to suspend Cardinal operations until some of his invalids recovered.

Yerkes came to the St. Louis club from the Marion, Ind., team of the now defunct Western Association. He is certainly fast enough for the big league, though his batting never was heavy. He is married and lives in Philadelphia. He might be a better pitcher there.

Fractional Changes From Saturday's Close.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The Stock Exchange opened active this morning with but slight changes from Saturday's close.

were small fractions. London will probably sell some stocks here today.

The Sunday financial articles were generally cheerful, though they do not hold out any great amount of encouragement for any very great immediate advances.

The in-restate commerce commission will begin its investigation of coal rates today, and it would not be surprising if the coal roads were affected by this announcement.

The opening, however, showed but slight changes, traders evidently waiting for developments. There is a rumored deal pending between Baltimore & Ohio and Erie, the nature of which no one seems to know, but bull tips are out on both of these stocks and Ealtimore & Ohio was very active. and Ealtimore & Ohio was very active during the opening hour, London being the Missouri Pacific showed much strength early and soon advanced to 109. Wabash preferred also made an advance, selling up to 47%, which is an advance of a point from the close Saturday.

The Saturday bank statement seems to be a considerable thorn in the side of those who were looking for a particularly good statement, and reflection over Sunday does not make the increase in loans look any more satisfactory than it did Saturday.

does not make the increase in loans look any more satisfactory than it did Saturday, Copper was one of the liveliest on the list and was strong with only slight fractional changes from 66. Colorado Fuel gained on the high price of Saturday and sold up to 64½ on only moderate trading.

After the first hour the market dragged considerable and the early gains were lost in most instances. It seemed as though traders were unwilling to go into the market until the Northern Securities decision was rendered. It was the general impression around the room that it would be unfavorable to the company and prices suffered accordingly.

The banks are reported to have gained 31.600.000 from the subtreasury since Friday. Money was easy at 4 per cent.

Colorado Fuel pursued its usual course, now up and then down, but touched 65½ during the second hour. Baltimore & Ohlo was well taken by Gates' brokers, while the Gould brokers were very active in Wabash, Missouri Pacific and Manhattan.

The decision in the Northern Securities case favorable to the company has an immediate effect on prices. Before the decision was rendered, Northern Securities on the curb sold down to 35½, while the first bid after the decision was 96. The general market responded quickly for a few minutes and it seemed as though there would be a strong up-turn, but the advance was short-lived and prices again sagged and were lower and but little changed from the quotations just before the decision, was announced, which was nearly the low price of the day.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The opening movement of prices was exceedingly irregular, a number of the small gains being promptly lost and some of the small gains being promptly lost and some of the small fosses as promptly recovered. The movement was limited to small fractions either way. Amalgamated Copper rose %, which measured the largest movement.

Prices fluctuated in a confused manner. A jump of 2% in Manhattan to 141% had some little sustaining effect on the market. Other stocks in which the demand was ample enough to induce good gains consisted mainly of minor stocks and included Fort Worth & Denver City stamped, which advanced & points, General Electric 2%, Evansville & Terre Haute 3%, Colorado Fuel 1%, and Metropolitan Street Railway. Wabash preferred, Et. Louis Southwestern preferred, Texas & Facific a point.

Metropolitan Securities subscriptions declined a point.

The Gould group displayed relatively more stability than any other stocks, but were only moderatively active. The market yielded a fraction all around before 11 oclock.

The inability to move prices far in either direction discouraged the traders, and the market became dull. Reading was under pressure and lost over a point, the second preferred 1½, Baltimore & Ohio 1, and Kanawha & Michigan 4. Wahash preferred. Southern Facific, Amalgamated, Metropolitan Street Railway, Colorado Fuel, Evansville & Terre Haute and St. Paul reacted 1 to 1½, General Electric extended its gains to 4%, Westinghouse Electric 8% and American Car, Pressed Ricel Car preferred and Consolidated Gas 1 to 1½.

Bonds were steady at noon.

CORN—The rains that had passed over the corn raising country twice Saturday had a strengthening effect upon the speculative merkets this morning, as delayed planting and restricted movement from the country were fears, though settled weather conditions followed close after the rains. Receipts here were but 58,700 bu, against 51,200 bu one year ago, and the stock showed 32,000 bu decrease for week. Liverpool opened 4d higher, but lost that later. The world's shipments were moderate and the amount afloat decreased 314,000 bu, against 312,000 bu increase a year ago. Speculation was extremely light locally, but 40%c advance, May selling at 40%c and July at 40%c.

An easier market followed the opening advance, May selling off to 40%c and July to 40%c on increased selling on sunshine and but little demand to take the offeringa. The visible descreased 625,000 bu last year. Where a year ago the decrease was 324,000 bu. Receipts at primary points today were 201,000 bu, against 208,000 bu one year ago, while shipments aggregated 1,401,000 bu, where 606,000 bu last year. Receipts at primary points today were 473,000 bu. Something of a reaction took place later.

DOCKERY VETOES NORMAL BILL

Says No Appropriation Is Made and Objects to Plan to Accept Bids for School.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 20.—Gov.
Dockery has vetoed the bill to establish state normal school in south or south-

He says no appropriation is made for its maintenance. He also takes excep-tions to the bill's plan to receive "offers" from towns of sites for the school and to accept the best one. The governor says that if Missouri is to have the re-ponsibility of maintaining another nor-nal it should select its location.

CHICAGO, April 20.—Ruskin College, with 160 students, furniture, apparatus and books, will be moved next Tuesday in a special train from Trenton, Mo., to Glen Ellyn, just west of Chicago.

That the students may not be interrupted classes will be heard on the train. The journey will begin at 6:15 a. m., and will end at 7 o'clock that evening.

Glen Billyn will be the academic center of the Ruskin University with which other Ruskin colleges have become affiliated. Walter Vrooman, formerly of St. Louis, is at the head of it.

Everything Newly Painted and Polished for Street Display.

Circus weather was on tap Monda morning for the first circus parade of the season. The street cars were filled early with women and children, and long before the vanguard of the Adam Forepaugh-Sells Brothers street pageant came into view, the downtown sidewalks were thick-

A circus parade is a great leveler, and men of affairs stopped their business to join the children in watching the newold features of the procession.

The Forepaugh-Sells Brothers open their season this year in St. Louis, and in consequence, everything in the parade was as bright and fresh as paint and general newness could make them. The sun shot glances of light from the armor of the equestrians, the scarlet pain on the wagons and the embossed harness of the horses. All the animals were fresh from their winters' rest and full of life.

It was not the perfunctory parade of the late season, when animals and performers are alike worn out with travel and work, and the wagons and trappings are timestained and bedraggied. There was a snappiness to Monday's parade, as if everybody in it enjoyed being shown quite as much as the spectators took in seeing it all.

It was theusual "gorgeous, gigantic and much as the spectators took in seeing it all.

It was theusual "gorgeous, gigantic and glorious" display, an "aggregation of stupendous marvels of land, sea and air," that you read about on the show bills, and an excellent foretaste of the show, "eclipsing in superlative splendor the grandest results of gigantic genius," as the circus advertising writer would say.

An amusing innovation in the parade was a hay wagon that followed it up. Concelled in the hay was a springboard on which three countrymen did aerial sommersaults and other acrobatte stunts to the immense delight of the children.

Court Declares the Evidence Against Her Husband Was Insufficient.

In division No. 3 of the Circuit Court Marie E. Scudder's application for divorce from Rogers B. Scudder was denied Monday. The court declared her evidence was nsufficient. Rogers V. Scudder, the defendant, did not file a cross complaint, but ant, did not file a cross complaint, but merely resisted his wife's application.

Both are well-known society people. They were married in 1894 and separated in 1992. They have a daughter, Dorothy Scudder, 8 years old. The husband for some time past has been living in New York City, but was here to testify in his own behalf when the divorce case was heard a little more than a week ago. The court took the matter under advisement at that time, rendering a decision Monday.

Dysart got the station agent to obtain the property of the station agent to obtain the presence of the station agent to reight rain.

The permit, it afterward developed, was signed by the trainmaster, whereas, according to company rules, only a general superintendent could issue such a permit. Dysart, standing on the rear platform of the caboose, was injured by a sudden jolt which thew him off backward. He sued for $7590, but Judge Adams instructed for the defendant because the permit was signed by an official having no authority to sign it. cial having no authority to sign it.
The court of appeals holds that Dysart
